United States Mint’s Jamestown 400th Anniversary Commemorative Coins Available at Jamestown Settlement on January 11

Director of the United States Mint will be on hand to sign certificates of authenticity

WILLIAMSBURG, Va.—Gold and silver commemorative coins issued by the United States Mint in honor of Jamestown’s 400th anniversary will be available for purchase at Jamestown Settlement on January 11 following a brief 10 a.m. public ceremony at the 17th-century living-history museum.

Edmund C. Moy, director of the United States Mint, will participate in the release ceremony in Jamestown Settlement’s Robins Foundation Theater immediately before coin sales begin. Mr. Moy will be on hand for a limited time to sign Certificates of Authenticity, which will be limited to two certificates per customer. Coins may be purchased using cash, check, credit card, or wire transfer in the Jamestown Settlement gift shop located in the visitor service’s lobby.

Congress authorized the production of up to 100,000 $5 gold coins and up to 500,000 silver dollars honoring Jamestown and America’s 400th Anniversary. The coins will be sold by the United States Mint through the end of 2007 or until the coins sell out.

The coins tell the story of Jamestown as America’s first permanent English settlement that established democracy, free enterprise and a culturally diverse society in what became the United States.

The obverse of the $5 gold coin depicts Captain John Smith conversing with a Virginia Indian. The coin’s reverse pictures the Jamestown Memorial Church—the only structure remaining from the settlement’s earliest years. The gold coin sells for $255.

The obverse of the silver dollar depicts “Three Faces of Diversity,” representing the Indian, European and African cultures that converged at Jamestown. The reverse depicts the three ships—Susan Constant, Godspeed and Discovery—that brought the first settlers to Jamestown. The silver coin sells for $39.

Customers may order coins online beginning January 10 at http://catalog.usmint.gov or by calling 1-800-USA-MINT (872-6468).
